Today's date is December 20th, 2016. Earthquake prediction awareness. There is a strong possibility of a natural disaster in the near future that may come in the form of an earthquake or something of similar potentiation. There is more chance for natural disasters than there are for human-created ones, although people with fearful persuasions have prompted the masses otherwise.

666 the Number of the Beast is a fiction. Why does it have so much weight placed upon it and why does the Greek New Testament have such numeral indications? There is no natural reason obviously. This is a sort of mental-magic that has been affecting the post-Catholicization world in more ways than one and even secular society has taken it upon themselves to propagate the imagery in logos, subliminal advertisements and religious theocracy shams. The early Greek magic indicates the number 9999 as the Number of the Beast. What Beast is this talking about in reality anyways? There is no logical proof of any actual satanistic / occult numbering system that results in 666 being the number of "SATAN" and therefore it has its limitations in effective numerological science, be it for or against humanity at large. What about 9999? That is from an earlier time frame of occult numerology, probably relegated to a smaller portion of early Theosophists and Theurgists (ie pagan priests). This is only provided as one clue to a larger backdrop of a scenery of truth that tells you that 666 is purely fictional occultism and ritualizing it will only last as long as the cultural paradigm lasts surrounding it and is therefore useless in fact. Darkening of the intellect of the modern masses is the sole outcome of its purveyance.

Ancient Aliens is a popularized occult fanfare fiction, now largely vulgarizing some of the truest forms of science in the universe. What if the masses could have actually comprehended the reasonability of reincarnation and the beingness of all life including such as those known as extra-terrestrials? What if indeed some superior beings have taken on the appearance and bodies of superior humankind and instructed the progenitors of the world's societies, including the Druidic, Persian, Ancient Indian and Egyptian? It is indeed a possibility that leaves more questions than answers at the mundane level of unnatural reasoning that is now materialistically prevalent.

The Occult is a Hoax. This is a reminder to all practitioners and dabblers in new age, occult science, meditation, psychic channeling, yoga, luciferianism, astrology, rituality and/or alien based religion. The chances of astral-light reflection and delusion playing a bigger and bigger part of your experiences is a genuine possibility. In direct contrast to this, let us ponder on why that natural philosophy and non-sensationalistic magic is almost never respected or sought out in these “occult scenarios” that are being played on a large level by the mainstream humankind currently. Someone may question the variability of these supposedly different paths of the occult/new age agenda, yet for some reason and this reason being philosophical by default, is that they tend for the same circle of variation without ever consulting reasoning (with a capital R) instead of morally degrading themselves for an occult experience that mirrors the egotism of the psychic channels rather than the enlightenment of the Self. There is a vast bridge between occult reality and wisdom. Instead of pursuing the philosophy of nature in regards to the human soul and science, the occult hoax provides the participants with a sort of lingo, body-language, a feeling of egotism, and sadly, a rather unfortunate outcome. The outcome of strangulation by occult forces beyond the grasp of the dabblers mental field and therefore immense intellectual struggle until rather devastating transformation occurs. Instead of avoided, the “occult hoax” should be questioned in every aspect by everyone who dares enter its realm. To some it may even bridge the doors between perplexing hoaxes of the shadows or even provide the unsuspecting neophyte with lesser contracts with actual black magic soul-shells left behind by some sorcerer thousands of years ago.

Rudolf Steiner 1861-1925 was an occultist who did not practice much sorcery or even mainline theosophy. He helped prevent World War 3 because he was successful in approaching the black magic of the NAZI regime and defeating many of their powers through the use of occult knowledge in regards to the Ahriman spirituality and other various means, many of which he did not publicly disclose. To the disappointment of the fear and war mongering idiots who populate the world wide web, there will not be an event known as World War 3. Thanks in part to pure souls who came to assist the Great Eastern Magians, such as Rudolf Steiner, but thanks also to many others, some of who remain to this day nameless. To consider that each and every Great Soul would want personal fame or fortune for their work on this human earth—it being a celestial body as well as a ball of rock—is to sidestep the Greatness of such Beings of Truth who entered into human form throughout the Ages and known by many names. They were able to see through the veil of ritualism and form and into the Great Cosmic Serpent of Positivity and the Yin and Yang of Universal Meditation to help prevent the forces of false occultism to create shadows to deceive the entire planet into retribution of slavery, mental and otherwise and to coerce the Dragons into submissive cooperation with the Natural Life that is Free to All and does not need to be achieved through another man but through One's Own Higher Self.
